Avoid These Serious Magic Mistakes To Save Yourself Years of Heartache And Pain!

Inside this special magical lesson you will learn about 4 different methods of tools you can easily use to create your own magical spell or ritual. You don't have to follow an exact step-by-step guide or format when it comes to creating or crafting a magical spell or ritual. It will rely on and be completely dependent on how strong your mental atmosphere is. The stronger belief that you have in your magic spell or ritual working will, in fact, make it that much more powerful and useful. If you have a shred of doubt in your magical spell or ritual it will be destined to fail.

When it comes to wanting to understand the universe and your particular place inside of it you will have many questions. You will want a higher sense of who you are, integrity and most importantly empowerment to reach the goals you wish to achieve. You want to be able to turn your life into a magical life that is filled with mystery and a supreme reality and a connection to it to attain higher realms of wisdom.

When people step into the world of magic this is what they hope for. Some of them will take a step further and will do things like exploring occult websites, going to different new age bookshops and trying different rituals. Other people may choose to join different orders and cults while others may choose to meet other like-minded people through the internet.

What happens is that they feel enchanted by the different information and available approaches to their life path and the magical path. However, there are many different pitfalls that come within this world of magic spells and consequences that do happen. I will explain the 5 most common pitfalls for the magic spells beginner so you can prevent them from happening and having to experience them as follows below.

The very first mistake beginners of witchcraft make is not understanding and knowing what they are actually using magic spells for. Some people just use it as a way to rebel against indoctrinated religions since childhood. Some people just do it to socialize and look taboo and rebel against the norms of society. Other people have very specific goals and there are plenty of branches of magic that will deal and teach those paths. What you need to understand is what you plan on using your magic spells for and what you wish to accomplish. Set a clear goal in mind and know what you are going after and what you are aiming to achieve.

The second mistake that people generally make, is that after having a spiritual awakening experience or a flash of validity to their spiritual pursuit, they begin opposing other systems and beliefs. Trying to force your spiritual beliefs on other people is absolutely foolish and will only alienate family and friends from you. You have to understand the spiritual tree of life has plenty of different branches and paths. Your personal path may be different from someone else's. That does not mean you have any reason to talk trash about their beliefs or running around proclaiming your spiritual path as being superior. This is the path of foolishness. Don't fall for it.

The third mistake that many beginner magicians make is abusing and using illicit substances. Many different people these days advocate drug use. Yes, certain types of psychedelic and psychoactive substances will unlock portals to your subconscious and beyond. However, this will only drain your mental resources and confine you to a life of addiction and reliance. Being a magician should be mastering yourself and all of your desires. You do not need to use drugs to enter an enchanted state. Relying on drugs is drug addiction. Do not rely on them. Keep your mind completely clear and sharp and be aware of your reality and yourself. Having a clouded mind that is hazed over by drug use will only make you weak. Being a weak person and a drug addict will take you nowhere with learning to master and use magic spells.

The fourth mistake that many people will get into is that they wish to master magick and to become the highest ranked and the most special witch or wizard possible. This is nothing more than a trap of egotism. The goal of magick is to become the best and most valid version of yourself possible. Magick is a tool and is not an end and a means unto itself. You use magick as a tool to achieve your aims and goals that you wish to accomplish in life. Once you work on a certain magical path you will achieve certain results when you follow a regular daily path. But for those that think downloading and reading every book possible to give themselves a title of being a master are fooled. You can only master yourself and magic spells and rituals are a method to achieve those results.

The fifth mistake that people make when choosing to live a magical life is that they may give away their personal power to others. People can do this in the way of following a guru or spiritual leader that demands obedience, demands money, gifts, and services or any other forms of giving away your personal power to him or her. You may also run into magical orders or fraternities that may make demands from you that take away your right to make choices. They may tell you that only they can offer you a tangible or an intangible thing in exchange for your servitude and surrender of personal rights. If you ever meet any types of groups, ideologies or teachers that demand massive personal sacrifice in exchange for a tangible or intangible reward you are being fooled. Never give away your personal power or freedom of choice or rights as a human being to any person or organization whether magical, spiritual, religious or otherwise. The world is full of cults and cult leaders looking for easy targets. Protect yourself and your ultimate personal best interests.

targets. Protect yourself and your ultimate personal best interests.

These are five of the common traps and pitfalls that beginners make when they enter the world of magic and you will have to be aware of them. You are your own personal protector and knowing of these mistakes can save you years of mistakes and heartache. The realm of magic spells is special and being able to accomplish your goals using magic spells and rituals can be a real thing. If you are new to witchcraft or a beginner at magic spells follow this advice as addressed above to get the most benefit from magic spells with as little problems as possible.
