How To Become Your Highest Self With Magic Spells!

Being able to call yourself a magician, a wizard or a witch is an easy thing. Ultimately it will take a lot of work on your self and your personality and disposing of baser elements of yourself that are not practical to your ultimate identity. Being able to open yourself up to witchcraft and magic abilities will first be dependent on your growth and personal self. You will have to really question everything about yourself and this process can take years long depending on how hard you pursue the ultimate question of who are you? Why are you here? What is your purpose?

If you cannot first answer these questions about who you are then don't expect to get too far with magic spells or witchcraft.

You will need to question everything about yourself most importantly the beliefs and perspectives on spirituality and the complexities of life. You will need to question everything you have ever believed or held to be true. You need to distinguish for yourself what you know for fact and what has been ingrained in you from society or environment.

You will need to have a full and thorough understanding of all the shades and nuances of your personality. You will need to also explore different parts of your psyche and this includes analyzing your dreams. Knowing yourself is one of the most vital components of making magic spells that actually work do what you intend them to do. If you have no power or knowledge of yourself don't expect to get too far when you try using magic spells or witchcraft.

Everything about magic spells and witchcraft will depend entirely on you and your beliefs. If you have a strong belief in a certain religion that has taught you that magic is bad then you will have serious issues with using magic until you uproot these old religious beliefs. I explain that to many people who have been taught a certain global religion their whole lives who try to step away from it and pursue the worlds and dynamics of magic spells.

You will have to decide your ultimate purpose and what you intend to do with your life. When you have a solid path and a clear destination with what you wish to do with your life your magic will become more powerful. Many people live their lives without knowing what their personal purpose or reason for being is.

So they use magic to counteract things in their lives or to take control of certain situations that they themselves have created. People who live with no major life purpose will never be able to fully understand and realize the full potential of magic. I have seen magicians I know go from absolute poverty to becoming millionaires because that was their ultimate goal and purpose. I have seen other people whose purpose was to find true romantic love and they did indeed find life partners they are madly in love with.

Using magic spells that actually work will depend on having full control over yourself and your life path. If you are aimlessly drifting through life and trying to use magic to control certain aspects of your life or people you won't have much luck. Part of using magic is to find your ultimate purpose and your Highest Self.

Being your Highest Self is the unfoldment and development of you becoming the optimal and best version of yourself you can be in this lifetime. This should be of primary importance for anyone that wishes to use magic spells that work for their ultimate purpose.

Yes, you can use magic spells for smaller things in life but you can also use it to unleash inner powers within yourself to change and become the best you can be as well. Developing yourself to become your best and greatest self should be the first focal mission that you step into while you walk the magical path.

Personal growth and self-development should be the beginning steps that you take when you begin using the worlds of witchcraft and magic spells. You will want to take a serious look at yourself and analyze all the major parts of your mind. When you have full control over your mental environment, beliefs, emotions, and other aspects you will have more overall power as a wizard, witch or a magician.

A magician will only be as powerful as he or she is personally. Many people believe that they can cast magic spells out into the abyss of the universe with no real power over themselves let alone the fabric of the universe. Yet worse, are people who will try to manipulate evil deeds and future events on other people they feel have harmed them. These people fail to see the greater picture of learning from the people who have wronged them and using magic to better themselves and their own personal lives. I will state this very clearly right now: Do not use black magic. It will only come back on you and destroy you even worse than the person or thing you intended harm against.

Living a magical life will have to be based on utilizing the right side of your brain which harnesses

Living a magical life will have to be based on utilizing the right side of your brain which harnesses imagination and creativity as well as the left side of your brain which dominates the logical and analyzing portions of your mind. The ultimate doorway to making magic spells actually work lies within your subconscious mind.

This part of your mind is the doorway to infinite intelligence and creativity. You can gain real information from these regions of your mind and it is the doorway that can turn your intentions and commands in the form of magic spells that work into real things into the cosmos. Your subconscious mind is one of the most powerful things in existence.

Before you start exploring how to contact different spiritual entities, Gods or Goddesses, first look deeply into the labyrinth of the subconscious. Answers to every question you have ever wanted to know of lay within. Inside this mysterious world is the entryway to infinite mystery and magic. I will tell you now that dreaming is important and recording your dreams is of prime importance.

You will also have to understand your primal drives and motivations. You will have to look deep within yourself and take a look at what puts you into motion and either drives you towards goals or holds you back in the way of fear. You will have to take a look at certain things in your life that will need healing or that need to be resolved. Many people will not look directly or squarely into themselves and forever will chase outward things in their lives to make up for the internal damage they carry instead of resolving and healing it.

Ultimately the ability to become a wizard, witch or magician will rely entirely on you and the work you do to analyze yourself. You and only you can answer the questions of Who are you? Why are you here? What is your purpose? Focus on these questions and meditate on them.

When you can find a higher purpose for your life and something you wish to attain you will have a goal that you can set into motion. When you have an ultimate purpose you can begin using magic to transmute yourself into your Higher Self. Be the best you can be and do not limit yourself. This is a major secret of master wizards. Take this to your heart and remember it.
